

Predicted clusters are colored categorically; predicted noise is light gray. High-dimensional datasets are shown by PCA without changing the clustering input.